

VERY

We use very to give emphasis to an adjective or adverb.

This town is very hot.

He drives very fast.

We were very tired.

The teachers spoke very nicely about her students.

Very cannot modify a VERB!

We use really instead.

I very like old black and white movies.

I really like old black and white movies.

Adjectives which describe an extreme quality can be modified by absolutely, completely, really and totally but not normally with very.

It is a very fantastic film.

It is a really fantastic film.

Exercise

1. doesn't very she elegantly, dresses she?
2. in We very are science interested both
3. much They very have don't money
4. home slowly walked He really
5. good I'm very a not singer.

