

QUANTIFIERS

We use many with plural countable nouns (-/?).

There aren't many chairs in the classroom.

How many eggs are there in this cake?

He doesn't have many friends.

We use much with uncountable nouns (-/?).

There isn't much cheese in the fridge.

How much water should I drink?

I don't have much time.

We use a lot of/ lots of with countable and uncountable nouns (+/?).

I need a lot of coffee a day.

Do you have a lot of pens?

She has a lot of pets.

Do you have a lot of money?

We use a few with countable nouns (+).

We use a little with uncountable nouns (+).

There are a few books on the shelf.

I have a little milk you can use.

We stayed a few days in Paris.

She has a little time to relax now.

UNCOUNTABLE

There's a lot of cheese. (+)

There's a little cheese. (+)

There isn't much cheese. (-)

How much cheese is there? (?)

COUNTABLE

There are a lot of eggs.

There are a few eggs.

There aren't many eggs.

How many eggs are there?

Exercise

1. I/eat/eggs/every day (+)
2. you/put oil/on your salad (-)
3. does/Sue/have/cousins (?)
4. there is/milk/in the cup (+)
5. Dave/eat/meat (?)

